2014 Bordeaux: An Introduction

Having just wrapped up our week of tasting the 2014 vintage in Bordeaux, we find ourselves once again in a state of renewed enthusiasm for Bordeaux primeurs. The team, consisting of members from our USA and UK offices, was hosted by Andy Lench, of Bordeaux Wine Locators. Entering his thirtieth year of tasting en primeur in Bordeaux, Andy brings not only a vast knowledge of and experience with the great wines of the region, but also a deep connection to the producers and negociants, who know and heartily greet him on a first-name basis. This afforded us a tremendous advantage, gaining access not only to his expertise, but to wines and winemakers who are the very best Bordeaux has to offer.

The 2014 Vintage

By now, plenty has been written about the weather in 2014, but few more thoroughly than one of our perennial favorite experts has on the subject: negociant and writer, Bill Blatch. The simplest version is that 2014 started out oh-so-promising in March, April, and even a wetter May, only to suffer the slings and arrows of outrageous fortune for most of the summer, which was inconsistent and mostly cooler and wetter than usual. An insane amount of work, of the herculean variety, was required to stave off the many plagues and pestilences that threatened to wipe out much of the production.

Then, somehow, as if Nature chose to reward the vigneron's hard work and devotion, a miraculously perfect September and October followed. According to Blatch, "...September was the third driest September of the last 100 years, after 1921 and 1985, and the third hottest after 1921 and 1961." October was also one of the driest and hottest on record, which gave producers confidence to pick when they felt the time was right.

The best part about these perfect latter months was the chance for the grapes to ripen fully, but thanks to the shorter daylight hours in autumn, the sugar levels increased with a very refreshing measure of low PH and higher acidity. Among the reds, this situation particularly favored Cabernet Sauvignon and Cabernet Franc on both the Left and Right Banks, while the Merlots were slightly less consistent, depending on the terroir and picking times. The best reds exhibit full ripeness and beautiful concentration with a very distinct freshness...a word that we heard so much during UGC week that it would have certainly become an annoying cliché if it weren't so true.

The same was largely the case for the dry whites and Sauternes. The best of these all have great richness on the mid-palate, balanced by zesty acidity and intriguing complexity. Almost none of the top properties produced any wines lacking in these qualities, but from one to the other, 2014 is a vintage where, in terms of expression, terroir became the deciding factor.

The Communes

In terms of overall consistency, 2014 is decidedly a Left Bank vintage, but without question, there were many great wines produced on the Right Bank that certainly qualify to be among the best. On the Left Bank, Saint-Julien and Saint-Estephe emerged to our team as the most consistent appellations overall.

This is great for consumers who are looking for relative values for drinking, rather than for investment. That being said, the First Growths of Pauillac, Margaux and Pessac-Leognan all stood the tallest among their counterparts, as they usually do. No surprise there, even though their respective communes did not perform as consistently.

On the Right Bank, the smaller area of Pomerol generally produces more consistency than Saint-Emilion, and 2014 is no exception. The top properties with higher percentages of Cabernet Franc tended to outshine those dominated by Merlot, but generalizations like this are difficult to make in 2014. Quality on the Right Bank seems to have been decided more on the basis of terroir and the winemakers' abilities to keep from over-extracting to the detriment of the fruit.

The very best dry whites were produced seemingly regardless of their communes. Haut-Brion, Margaux, Domaine de Chevalier, and even Cos d'Estournel, way up north, made stunning white wines.

Sauternes and Barsac consistently produced rich, mildly-botrytised wines with a fresh, buoyant acidity. It is always a bonus during UGC when the dry and sweet white wines are so good, since they afford our palates such a welcome relief from tasting so many young red wines from barrel.

The Top Wines

As previously mentioned, the First Growths naturally performed among the best, most notably Latour, Haut-Brion, and Lafite. Eschewing such classifications, the shining stars of 2014 that stood out were Lafleur, La Mission, Ausone, Vieux Chateau Certan, Cos d'Estournel, Ducru-Beaucaillou, Leoville Las Cases, and Yquem. Among the relative values, Grand-Puy-Lacoste, d'Armailhac, Clerc Milon, Branaire-Ducru, Rauzan-Segla, Leoville Barton, and Leoville Poyferre were all outstanding. Beyond these, there were countless surprises among the real value wines. Please continue reading below for a complete list of our tasting notes on the standout wines of 2014.

The Campaign

The familiar refrain among the trade in Bordeaux has been the same for far too many vintages: if the prices are fair, we will have a futures campaign. We've heard it, blurted it, and murmured it again and again. That being said, there does seem to be an impending change in the weather, however slight. The attention in Bordeaux seems to have shifted back to more traditional markets such as the UK, USA, and Hong Kong, so in our hope of hopes, we just might see something close to reasonable prices for the 2014s. Soon we will see, but one thing is for sure, we at Grand Vin Wine Merchants will be front and center and will most certainly be among the most competitively-priced on the best that 2014 has to offer.

Santé!

Tasting Notes: The Best of 2014

St-Estèphe

Calon Segur Formerly owned by the Gasqueton family, it is now owned by a French Insurance company. It has one of the best terroirs in Bordeaux. The new owners have already started major renovations and we think this wine will be one to watch. 66% Cabernet Sauvignon 19% Merlot 13% Cabernet Franc & 2% Petit Verdot. A big, bold wine with a dark ruby color. Nose of raspberries with rich, ripe and creamy tannins, nice mid palate richness and quite a long finish. 92-95

Cos D'Estournel Now owned by the Reybier family, who have undertaken extraordinary renovations at the property, but most impressive is the new cellar. We have visited here several times since the new installation, which is all gravity fed. It remains one of the most impressive cellars in Bordeaux. This wine is clearly one of the top wines of the vintage. In fact, we found all of St Estephe to be of this very consistent quality. 65% Cabernet Sauvignon 33% Merlot 2% Cabernet Franc. The color was black, with blueberry and exotic spices on the nose. This wine is very rich from the front and mid palate, having a very long finish. Lovely sweet ripe tannins with a great freshness, the hallmark of most of the top wines. 94-97

Haut Marbuzet 50% Cabernet Sauvignon 40% Merlot 10% Cabernet Franc. Always a well-made wine and usually reasonably priced. Very dark ruby color and rustic tannins, but very well balanced. The fruit is rich, round and unctuous with a relatively long finish. 91-94

La Dame De Montrose The second wine of Montrose. 65% Cabernet Sauvignon 25% Merlot 10% Cabernet Franc. Dark ruby with blueberry aromas. A well-made wine with good balance, acidity and structure. Should be ready to consume in 3-5 years. 89-91

Les Ormes De Pez 47% Cabernet Sauvignon 44% Merlot 7% Cabernet Franc 2% Petit Verdot. From the Cazes stable, this is always a good value and punches well above its weight. The color is black with a cherry vanilla nose. A balanced wine with rich, ripe fruit that dominates the palate, good extract and balance. A charming wine. 89-92

Les Pagodes De Cos The second wine of Cos D'Estournel. 55% Cabernet Sauvignon 43% Merlot 2% Petit Verdot. A real surprise. The quality of this second wine is definitely improving. Very dark ruby color with blueberry tones. A lovely balance and nice, rich finish. 91-93

Lilian Ladouys 55% Merlot 40% Cabernet Sauvignon 3% Petit Verdot 2% Cabernet Franc. Color dark ruby with black cherry aromas. Well balanced with good acidity and medium weight. Should be very pleasant young. 89-91

St-Estèphe

Meyney 60% Cabernet Sauvignon 25% Merlot 15% Petit Verdot . A nice surprise, deep, dark ruby color with cassis and anise aromas. A big, bold St Estephe with great power and length. This wine has a balance of acidity, fruit and ripe tannins whilst also displaying the lovely freshness associated with this vintage. 92-94.

Montrose The Bouygues Brothers purchased this property in 2006 and have done a complete restoration of the barrel cellars and the vat room, which is hugely impressive. 65% Cabernet Sauvignon 25% Merlot 10% Cabernet Franc. Very dark ruby color with black cherry aromas. Again we see here very fresh ripe tannins, but an underlying power and strength, with a very long finish. 92-96.

Tronquoy Lalande 45% Merlot 45% Cabernet Sauvignon 10% Petit Verdot. This property has improved significantly since being purchased by the Bouygues Brothers. Pauillac

Carruades De Lafite The second wine of Lafite Rothschild. 58% Cabernet Sauvignon 42% Merlot. Color medium ruby, nice balance, ripe tannins. Nothing like the Grand Vin but a pleasant wine which we hope to have at pleasant price. 90-92

Pauillac

D'Armailhac 53% Cabernet Sauvignon 34% Merlot 11% Cabernet Franc 2% Petit Verdot. This wine pleases us every year. Color dark ruby with cherry and cassis aromas. Normally reasonably priced, this will be one to search out. 92-94

Duhart Milon 55% Cabernet Sauvignon 45% Merlot Color is very dark ruby with black cherry aromas. A very rich mid palate and great freshness of tannins with a good finish. Certainly the best Duhart since the great 2010. 92-94

Echo De Lynch Bages 73% Cabernet Sauvignon 27% Merlot. This second wine of Lynch Bages is dark ruby in color with black cherry aromas and good classic structure from beginning to end. Displays freshness and power with a good finish. 90-92

Grand Puy Lacoste 82% Cabernet Sauvignon 18% Merlot. Francois Xavier Borie is a perfectionist and this is one of the wine trade's favorites! Another top notch effort this year. A brooding, very dark ruby color with black cherry and licorice aromas. Very rich, ripe, creamy well-balanced tannins. This wine has everything: structure, balance, richness, elegance and a very long finish. 93-95

Lafite Rothschild 87% Cabernet Sauvignon 10% Merlot 3% Cabernet Franc. It is always great to meet and talk with the ebullient Charles Chevallier from Chateau Lafite, and to taste this magnificent wine. The color is black with a very refined nose of cherry and tobacco. Initial muted impressions were soon eliminated because the mid palate demonstrated super richness followed by one of the longest finishes, which carried on seemingly forever. Great balance of acidity, lovely ripe tannins and, again, that freshness. Top notch. 94-97

Haut Bages Liberal 75% Cabernet Sauvignon 25% Merlot. This is a favorite of ours, representing quality and value. Dark ruby color with black cherry aromas. Very nice, pure, ripe fruit with lovely balance. The tannins are well integrated. Good strong finish. 90-92

Haut Batailley 78% Cabernet Sauvignon 22% Merlot. Another wine from Mr Borie. A quintessential Pauillac with a dark ruby color and black cherry aromas. Tannic, with plenty of ripe, fresh fruit to match the tannins. Good balance and acidity, with chewy ripe fruit that lingers on the palate. 91-94

Pauillac

Lacoste Borie 67% Cabernet Sauvignon 23% Merlot 10% Cabernet Franc. This wine is generally a pleasant surprise, but this year the fruit jumped out of the glass! A dark ruby wine with great freshness and blueberry aromas. It has very good balance and length, with a surprisingly high score of 91-93. Highly Recommended

Latour 89.9% Cabernet Sauvignon 9.2% Merlot .06% Cabernet Franc .03% Petit Verdot. Francois Pinault's famous chateau has recently undergone further extensive remodeling which demonstrates his intense quest for perfection. We felt the 2014 was the best wine we tasted. What a shame the wines of Latour are no longer released En Primeur. We will have to delay our gratification for at least 10-15 years. What a fabulous wine! It has everything. Black color with cherry and blueberry aromas. The concentration is massive. Fresh, ripe tannins packed with powerful, rich fruit and an enormous finish. Very few wines of this vintage have so much power and richness. This is superb. 97-99

Le Petit Mouton 93% Cabernet Sauvignon 7% Merlot. Black, dense fruit with chocolate and cherry aromas, followed by fresh, ripe tannins and good structure throughout. Has quite a long finish. 91-93

Les Forts De Latour 71.4% Cabernet Sauvignon 28.6% Merlot. Certainly the best Les Forts since the 2010. Dark ruby color with cherry and hints of chocolate aromas. This second wine has a lot of power but also very refined tannins with sweet ripe fruit and a long finish. 93-95

Les Griffons De Pichon Baron 55% Cabernet Sauvignon 45% Merlot. The second wine of Pichon Baron has a deep, dark ruby color exhibiting wild berry aromas. A refined wine very much in balance, tannins, fruit and acidity. A very fine second wine. 89-91

Lynch Bages This wine, like most of the wines, was tasted 3-4 times. Our first tasting was with the ever-affable Jean-Charles Cazes, whose excellent Vintage Condition Report can be found on our website. 69% Cabernet Sauvignon 26% Merlot 3% Cabernet Franc 2% Petit Verdot. The color is black, and on the nose, black cherry and licorice. This is a tannic, large, bold wine exhibiting great freshness and balance with a super-rich mid palate that lasts a very long time. This is one of the better Lynch Bages from over the past decade, apart, of course, from the wonderful 2009 and 2010. 93-96

Pauillac

Mouton Rothschild The magnificent new cellar is now fully utilized and how impressive it is! 81% Cabernet Sauvignon 16% Merlot 3% Cabernet Franc. The Left Bank (the Medoc) is dominated by the Cabernet Sauvignon grape, and none more so than among the three Pauillac First Growths. In this case, a dark ruby color with blackberry and chocolate aromas. A very tannic wine but plenty of rich, ripe, round fruit for balance. It has a very long finish that really demonstrates the underlying power. 93-95

Pichon Longueville Baron 65% Cabernet Sauvignon 35% Merlot. Owned by Axa, the French insurance giant, who have spared no expense in their quest for perfection. St-Julien

Beychevelle 62% Cabernet Sauvignon 31% Merlot 5% Cabernet Franc 2% Petit Verdot. A large property that never disappoints. Dark ruby color with cherry and cassis aromas. Great freshness in the wine and very balanced lush, sweet, ripe tannins and fruit. This is an elegant and refined wine. 91-94

Brancaire Ducru 70% Cabernet Sauvignon 22% Merlot 5% Cabernet Franc 3% Petit Verdot. Dark ruby color with cherry and blueberry aromas. A refined richness displaying nice balance and soft, fruity tannins. Good length and finish. 91-93

St-Julien

Clos Du Marquis 74% Cabernet Sauvignon 22% Merlot 4% Cabernet Franc. This wine is often mistaken for the second wine of Leoville Las Cases, however we can assure you it comes from an entirely separate plot in the "Petit Clos" adjacent to Leoville Las Cases. A very fine wine in its own right. A very dark, almost black color with aromas of blackberries. Fresh ripe tannins, fine balance, and a sturdy dose of rich fruit with plenty of length. 91-94

Ducru Beaucaillou 90% Cabernet Sauvignon 10% Merlot. Wow, this is clearly one of the stars of the vintage! It boasts the highest proportion of Cabernet Sauvignon of all the wines we tasted. Graud Larose 61% Cabernet Sauvignon 29% Merlot 7% Cabernet Franc 3% Petit Verdot. Always one of our favorites for quality/price ratio. This is a top-notch performance. Dark ruby color with aromas of cherry and violets. The tannins are very ripe. A very sweet, fresh richness that lingers on the palate for a long time. One of the best Grauds in some time. 94-96

La Croix De Beaucaillou 60 % Cabernet Sauvignon 35% Merlot 5% Petit Verdot. Another very good effort from Bruno Borie, who does not consider this a second wine. A very dark ruby color with hints of black cherry aromas. With good acidity and ripe tannins. This wine displays freshness and structure, with good length. 91-93

Good balance between the tannins and fruit, sweet ripe tannins with plenty of rich, ripe fruit and a fairly long finish. 91-93

Leoville Barton 74% Cabernet Sauvignon 23% Merlot 3% Cabernet Franc. A very dark ruby color with a nose of rich black cherry. There is great balance, with this wine displaying very pure rich, ripe fruit. Great length. Another superb effort which may eventually compare to the excellent 2009. 94-96

Leoville Las Cases 79% Cabernet Sauvignon 11% Cabernet Franc 10% Merlot This magnificent vineyard, comprising 98 hectares in St Julien, is situated next door to First Growth Chateau Latour. Although in different communes, these two wines can often be very similar in being the most slow-maturing wines of all Bordeaux. This is a superb Leoville Las Cases, black in color with blackberry and blueberry aromas. Powerful tannins, very well delineated, with sweet ripeness and a massive burst of rich unctuous fruit in the mid palate which lingers for almost a minute. 94-98

d'Yquem 75% Semillon 25% Sauvignon Blanc. Color very light yellow with a voluptuous nose, fig, pineapple and vanilla. This is a very elegant Yquem but the botrytis and power lies hiding below the rich, ripe, subtle charm and freshness. There is a large amount of sweet power in this wine with a finish that lingers for minutes. We were fortunate to taste the wine on two different occasions and both confirmed that this is a great Yquem and certainly one to seek out. 96-98

Doisy Daene 86% Semillon 14% Sauvignon Blanc. The proprietor, the famous consultant Denis Dubourdieu, has produced one of his best wines to date.
